Vol 7 issue 8

The summer has almost left us and I for one am not ready to start worrying about the cold. I do love this State and the great weather that we have year round. The year so far has been a great one although it has been hot in the Month of August and maybe just a little to hot for the good of the many golf courses and also for us the humans. All in all I still like the heat and would rather try to get cool than to get warm. Play well and enjoy what we have and thank a Vet for the good life. Please be aware that the magazine is now on the web and available via e-mail direct to you. Send us an e-mail and we will add you to the list to receive the magazine. Hilton Head Island

Rachel Uremovich on the Move

Hilton Head SC - The smile on Rachel Uremovich's face stretched from ear to ear as she told her Hilton Head Island High School teammates about the recruiting letters that are starting to fill her mailbox — one from the University of North Carolina arrived Saturday, followed Tuesday by correspondence from Notre Dame, UCLA, South Carolina and Texas.

If she keeps playing like this, Uremovich might have to take out a post office box.

The Hilton Head High junior fired a 1-under-par 35 on the Devil's Elbow South Course at Moss Creek on Tuesday, finishing nine shots ahead of the next-best score and leading the Seahawks to a 175 total and a victory over their county rivals from Bluffton and Beaufort high schools.

The Seahawks were 11 shots better in beating the same two teams a week ago at Dataw Island, but their margin of victory was bigger Tuesday. Hilton Head High finished 16 shots ahead of Bluffton a week after beating the Bobcats by 14 shots in both teams' opener. The Bobcats struggled from top to bottom Tuesday, with Heather Wiquist leading the way with a 44 and Kendra Collins shooting 45. Coach Jim Corbin hopes to see his team work out some of its problems this week in practice.

"I'm still at a loss with this team, because they're so much better than what they're shooting," Corbin said. "The physical game is not our problem. ... I think they just need to believe in themselves and stop putting so much pressure on themselves."

Uremovich took the pressure off her teammates by giving the Seahawks a big cushion in the No. 1 slot, even though she said she wasn't at her best. "I actually really didn't play that good," Uremovich said. "I played decent, and I scrambled well."

Uremovich fought her driver a bit but still managed to hit seven of nine greens in regulation, an impressive task considering Moss Creek's tiny greens. After starting at No. 3, Uremovich rolled in a 15-foot birdie putt at the par-3 fifth hole. She gave one back at the par-4 ninth to drop to even par, but got it right back with a 20-foot birdie putt at the par-4 first.

Kylie Gratton shot 49 to lead the Eagles, who shaved 15 shots off their score from last week. All three teams are in action again Tuesday at Coosaw Creek Country Club in North Charleston.

Wittiak and Dunnagan take Thomas D. Todd All Stars

Colin Wittiak and Danielle Dunnagan captured the overall girls and boys titles in the 17th playing of the SCJGA All Stars Championship. Wittiak backed up his opening 69 with an even par 72 to take his first SCJGA major Championship while Danielle bested her cousin, Maureen, by six shots. The players qualified through their local chapters of the Hootie and the Blowfish Summer Series. Each chapter brought their best two players of the seven age brackets that competed all summer long in regional stroke play events.

The tournament is held in honor of Thomas D. Todd, a Laurens native that was a big supporter of junior golf. The Todd name is synonymous with great golf in SC as his three sons are very accomplished players. Grandchildren of Mr. Todd are all involved with competitive golf, thanks to his own dedication to the game with his own family.

Columbia's Ben Fogler got off to a great start after his opening round 65. He birdied his first three holes in route to a 67 and a thirteen stroke margin of victory in the boys 13-14 division. He had quite an impressive showing as the young man had his best tournament finish at 12 under par. The chapters are also taking their best score in each of their age brackets to combine for a boys and girls chapter championship. The Greenville chapter took the boys competition while Columbia held on to the overnight lead in the girls division to win the overall.

Junior Golfers Honored At Pinehurst

Connor and Blake Graham was recognized and congratulated for their efforts in South Carolina Junior Golf today in Pinehurst NC. Connor's third place finish at Seabrook Island SCJGA 2 day Championship and Blake's top 5% finish in the South Strand chapter tournaments in Pawleys Island SC. The BMOA of Raleigh and the Regional McDonald's Corporation at the William Pretty Jr. 2007 Golf Classic that raises funds for deserving Shaw University students gave Connor and Blake the opportunity to be honorary guests at the event and a chance to pass out the awards. A special thanks goes out to local McDonald's owners and operators for the invitation to participate in such a grand ceremony with such a noble cause!

Thanks to the Hootie and the Blowfish Monday After the Masters Pro Am, funds are available to offer internships for the summer series to young people interested in golf tournament operations. Former junior players Daniel Castles, Jamie Daniel, and Chase Butler were all on hand helping to put on this great event. A great big thanks goes out to all of our chapter directors, interns, and most certainly our host golf courses of the SCJGA.

The 2007 Champions are Colin Wittiak (Boys 15-18), Ben Fogler (Boys 13-14), Ryan Lamb (Boys 10-12), Stephen Reynolds (Boys 8-9), Danielle Dunnagan (Girls 14-18), Louise Oxner (Girls 11-13), and Kelli Murphy (Girls 8-10)

Dennis and Covar Take 2007 Cuthbert All Stars Championship!

Seabrook Island – Anne Marie Covar held on to her first round lead to take the overall girls championship in the 2007 Tommy Cuthbert All Stars Championship. Trey Dennis claimed top honors in the boys 15-18 division with a tournament total of 147. The Ocean Winds Club at Seabrook Island played host to the event conducted by the SCJGA.

Covar compiled rounds of 82 and 81 for a two day total of 163 and a nine shot margin of victory. Moncks Corner native Dennis came from behind with a final round 71 to earn his first All Stars victory. Steven Behr of Florence successfully defended his 2006 title with a two day total of 145 thanks to a final round 70.

Hilton Head's, Wesley Long shot a three under par 33 for a two day total of 71 to take the boys 10-12 bracket. McKenzie Talbert from Aiken won the girls 11 – 13 division with a two day total of 78. Jack Carter took the top honors in the boys 8-9 division as Hannah Casey finished on top in the girls 8-10.

The Hilton Head Chapter took top honors in both the boys and girls team championship. Aiken finished second in the overall boys while Charleston finished runner up in the girls competition. The All Stars is a stroke play competition played over two days that is comprised of the top point winners in each of the nineteen chapters of the Hootie and the Blowfish Summer Series. The chapters are made up of geographical regions in SC and vary in size from fifty youngsters to well over two hundred in the bigger cities. Each chapter completes play in seven different age brackets over the summer months in their own local markets. The top two players in each bracket earn their way into the season ending All Stars Championship to test their game against the wider scope of statewide talent. Nine Chapters were on hand representing the low state of SC.

VIGNATI EXPECTED TO MAKE TITLE DEFENSE IN CAROLINAS SENIOR AMATEUR,

WEST END, NC - Reigning champion Joe Vignati of Bluffton, SC is among the 226 golfers who have entered the 46th Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship, a Carolinas Golf Association event scheduled to be played Sept. 11-13 at Dunes West Golf Club in Mount Pleasant, SC. Vignati won the rain-plagued tournament for golfers ages 55 and over last November at Cape Fear Country Club in Wilmington, NC by shooting 73-69—142. The final round of the scheduled 54-hole stroke play competition was canceled because of a turbulent low pressure system that produced extremely high winds and several tornadoes in the area. Also expected to be in this year's field are 2006 runnerup Bill Palmer of Bluffton, SC, who wound up one stroke behind Vignati, and third-place finisher Bill Boles of Wilson, NC, who finished three strokes off the pace. The entry list also includes Paul Simson of Raleigh, NC, the 2006 Carolinas Senior Player of the Year. Golfers in the Championship Division are scheduled to play 54 holes, with the field cut to the low 60s scorers and those tied for 60th after 36 holes. An additional 20 players will compete in a 36-hole Super Senior Division for those ages 70 and above. The par-72 Dunes West course, an Arthur Hills creation that opened in 1991, will play at 6,508 yards for the seniors. For more information about the Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship at Dunes West Golf Club and other CGA events, visit the Championship Home Page online at www.carolinascgolf.org.

Junior Golf Land

Little Legends

Junior Golf Land facilities are open for all youth groups— Junior Golf Lands were designed specifically to encourage underprivileged and minority youths between the ages of eight and seventeen to get involved with the game of golf and the character building attributes that are associated with the game.

The SCJGA Junior Golf Land Program is ever expanding. Riverside Golf Center, opening in Spring 1997, paved the way for a youngsters to have access to this great game. The City of Columbia Golf Center has since opened in late 2001 to expand the reach of the SCJGA! The Junior Golf Land program was next introduced in Spartanburg, SC at the Creek Golf Club. Greenville and Myrtle Beach came on line in 2005, bringing the total to five. Charleston and Hilton Head are the next targets for Junior Golf Land expansion.

Thanks to the efforts of Hootie & the Blowfish Monday After the Masters and a grant from the United States Golf Association (USGA), we now have the ability to offer these services to youth organizations free of charge:

- Golf clubs and balls for all participants
- Quality golf instruction
- Nine hole par 3 course
- Practice range and short game area
- “Hootie Hut” Clubhouse

Groups and Outings
If your organization is interested in scheduling a visit to our facility, please contact our staff at (803) 732-9311. Applications can be obtained below or from the South Carolina Junior Golf Association.

Little Legends is open to junior golfers between the ages of 8 and 12. The mission of the series is to provide youth with a fun team environment to introduce golf competition and friendship. There are three seasons conducted each year and all matches are played at the par 3 course at Junior Golf Land.

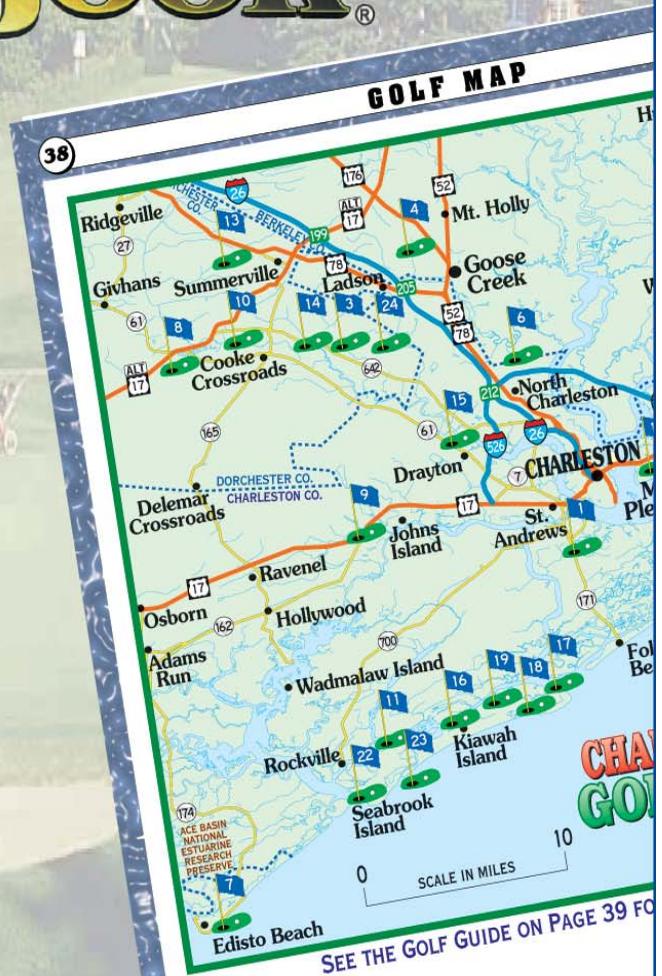

Clubs-for-Kids

The SCJGA has clubs available for those kids just getting started. A limited number of “skip” and 5-club sets are available at no charge. Contact the SCJGA office at (803)732-9311 if you need equipment.

Patriots open 2007-08 golf schedule in Tennessee

FLORENCE, S.C. — The Francis Marion University men's golf team will embark upon its first season as a full-fledged NCAA Division I member on Monday (Sept. 10) when the Patriots compete in the 54-hole Scenic City Invitational hosted by the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga.

The tournament will be played at the Council Fire Country Club in Chattanooga and will consist of 36 holes on Monday and 18 holes on Tuesday.

Fifth-year Francis Marion head coach Mark Gaynor welcomes back all six lettermen from last year's squad that compiled a team stroke average of 299.73.

Junior Peter McGibney, a transfer from Northwestern Oklahoma State University, will join the squad this year after attending FMU last year, but not playing.

"The guys are looking forward to starting the season," Gaynor said. "They have all played a lot of golf this summer, and I can tell they have been preparing on their own. We should be a more mature group this year. Everyone knows the drill which makes the preparation and participation in tournament play easier. Hopefully that will allow us to shave some strokes off our averages."

"I am looking for steady improvement and consistency in our play. I hope we will create opportunities and then take advantage of them. Last year, we gave away spots with poor rounds. We hope to remedy that in 2007-08."

The returning players include: senior Jacob Tveit (76.31 stroke average in 2006-07); juniors Keith Crowley (80.36), Ronan O'Connor (76.13), and Andrew Pitcher (74.39); and sophomores Christopher Couch (74.19) and Jonathan Lavin (79.52).

2007 - 08 Francis Marion U men's golf team

Couch earned his team's MVP award last year as a freshman. He finished in the top half of the field in all but one event, including five Top-25 finishes and two Top-15 showings; carded five sub-par rounds; and set the school record for a freshman with his final-round 66 at William & Mary's tournament.

While at Northwestern Oklahoma State, McGibney compiled a 76.7 stroke average and tied for 28th place at the 2006 NAIA regional tournament. He was the Rangers' top finishers in eight of nine tournaments, and posted five Top-10 showings. He finished 20th at the 2006 Irish Youths' Amateur Open Championship, and is a past All-Ireland National High School Match-Play champion.

Gaynor's line-up for the opening tournament will be Couch, McGibney, O'Connor, Pitcher, and Tveit. FMU placed 17th at last year's Scenic City Invitational.

The following Monday and Tuesday (Sept. 17-18), Francis Marion will play host to the 23rd-annual Raines Development Group Intercollegiate at the Country Club of South Carolina.

FMU Golf Corporate Challenge, sponsored by BB&T

FLORENCE, SC — The Francis Marion University golf program will hold its seventh-annual Corporate Challenge golf tournament, sponsored by Branch Banking and Trust Company (BB&T), at The Country Club of South Carolina in Florence.

The Challenge is a four-player team stroke event, handicapped by 75 percent of USGA handicaps. A maximum field of 32 teams is expected to be filled by corporations and individuals from throughout the Pee Dee region and the state. Players will be competing for personal prizes as well as having their corporate name engraved on the tournament's perpetual trophy on display at The Country Club of South Carolina. Tournament registration also includes player gifts, lunch, and a veranda party and awards ceremony following the conclusion of play.

"This event continues to have a great impact on the success of the FMU golf program," stated FMU golf coach Mark Gaynor. "As we enter our first year as a full-fledged Division I member, the proceeds from the Challenge will help greatly in our ability to compete at the highest level. We strive to make this event more special each year, and I want those who are involved to know that they each have a hand in the success of our collegiate program."

"Over the past six years, the event has raised more than $91,000 (+) to benefit the Patriot golf program."

BB&T is rated as one of the country's safest and soundest financial institutions.

VIRGINIAS WINS THE 25th VIRGINIAS-CAROLINAS JUNIOR MATCHES

LYNCHBURG — The eight-golfer Virginia team prevailed for a four-point victory (10-6) over their Carolinas counterparts to win the 25th Virginias-Carolinas Junior Matches, which concluded today at Boonsboro Country Club (6,748 yards, par 36-36—72).

Virginias owned a one-point edge (4½-3½) following first-day foursome and four-ball matches. In a closely-contested final day of singles matches, Virginias notched a three-point victory (5½-2½). Virginias took home the Vinny Giles Trophy, snapped a two-match winless streak to Carolinas and claimed their first victory at Boonsboro since 2001, also their last win on Virginia soil.

In taking the title, Virginias won four singles matches and halved three others. Central Virginians Garrett Whitmore (Midlothian) and Bryce Chalkley (Chester) posted victories in the opening two matches. This year’s VSGA Junior Am runner-up, Whitmore bested Harold Varner III (Gastonia, N.C.), 2 and 1, while Chalkley made par at the last to defeat Mitchell Gray (Florence, S.C.), 1 up. Carolinas posted its only victory of the day in match three when North Carolina Junior Amateur champion Robert Hoadley (Southern Pines, N.C.) bested Jacob Singleton (Brookneal, Va.), 5 and 3. Singleton, though, went undefeated in first-day foursome and four-ball encounters.

Matches four and five were halved. Midlothian’s Nicholas Austin made birdie at No. 18 to earn one-half point in his match against Andy Knox (Cary, N.C.), while reigning VSGA Junior Match Play champion Michael Moyers (Stanardsville) halved Austin Reeves (Greenville, S.C.)

Virginias clinched the ’07 trophy when U.S. Junior Am participant Evan Beck (Virginia Beach) got past Crawford Reeves (Greenville, S.C.), 2 and 1; Beck led the way for Virginias over the two days, accounting for a team-best two-and-a-half points. Making his team-high third appearance on the squad, VSGA Amateur Championship semifinalist Aaron Eckstein (Salem) notched a 1-up win versus Lee Bedford (Cary, N.C.) in match seven. In the concluding match, reigning VSGA Junior Amateur Championship winner Brinson Paolini (Virginia Beach) halved South Carolina Junior Amateur champion Wesley Bryan (Chapin, S.C.).

Virginias won final round singles matches, 5½-2½

In a dramatic finish with a birdie on the second playoff hole, the team of Jeff McCutcheon and Chip Whitt earned the title of 2007 SCGA Mid Am Four Ball Champions. Columbia's Chris Mitchell and Jarrett Grimes along with Ellison McCoy from Greenville and Simpsonville's Blanton Phillips finished tied for second at 129.

The team of David DuPre and Greg Sweatt, the first round leaders from Blythewood and Irmo, couldn't hold their form from day one and finished three shots off the lead at 12 under par. Charleston's Bert Atkinson and Sammy Truett of Surfside Beach finished fourth, one shot back while the Jeff Jaeggi and Yancey Johnson duo from Simpsonville finished in fifth two shots behind.

The Bobby Chapman
JUNIOR INVITATIONAL

Field is set for the Bobby Chapman

Spartanburg SC - Eighty four players are confirmed for the 2007 playing of the Bobby Chapman Junior Invitational. The highly skilled field hails from 16 states and the Caymen Islands, putting a true international flavor into the event. Players qualified though local, regional, and national competitions and were invited based on those merits. Five AJGA victories are represented along with 15 state championships, 22 USGA Junior Championship contestants, and 23 other major titles as well. The field boasts an average handicap of below scratch and 11 players are ranked in the top 100 of Golfweek's junior rankings.

The tournament is held in honor of the late Robert H. Chapman, Jr. Chapman, a long time member of the Country Club of Spartanburg, was the only man to serve as president of both the South Carolina Golf Association & Carolinas Golf Association. He was an accomplished player and served the USGA in several capacities. In his business life, Chapman was a local and national leader in the textile industry. The tournament also benefits the Spartanburg Foundation and the South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation. To date, over $100,000 has gone to scholarship recipients through both organizations thanks to the many kind supporters of the Bobby Chapman.

Ranked 19th in 2007-08

NEW YORK, N.Y. – Newberry College women’s golf is ranked 19th in the 2007-08 preseason edition of the Golf World/NGCA Coaches Poll released on Wednesday.

The Lady Indians finished the 2006-07 campaign as South Atlantic Conference champions and rising sophomore Franziska Blum competed individually in the NCAA South Regional in Lakeland, Fla. last May.

Blum was also named an honorable mention to the National Golf Coaches Association (NGCA) All-American team for 2006-07.

The Lady Indians return six golfers for the upcoming season, including seniors Laura Duncan, Lindsay Gifford, and Ashley Ratcliff.

Newberry is one of two South Atlantic Conference teams in the preseason poll and one of 10 teams from the south region. The Lady Indians received a vote total of 100 points

Indians finish 10th at Kiawah Invitational

NEWBERRY, S.C. - The Newberry College men’s golf team finished the Kiawah Invitational in Kiawah Island, S.C. in 10th place after completing round two on Tuesday. The Indians shot 311 in the second day of the tournament following a team total of 298 on Monday. Newberry’s top individual finish came from freshman Daniel Stanley. The first year Indian shot a 70 on Monday and finished Tuesday with a score of 78. Stanley’s 148 total, four over par, was good enough to tie him for 18th.

Fellow freshman Ben Lown sported the next best Indian finish, tied for 24th, after following a day one score of 76 with a 74 on Tuesday. Indian freshman John Allen Meetze completed the tournament nine-over par, tied for 33rd. Sophomore Brandon Burnside finished with a two-day score of 158, 14-over par, and junior Billy Burrows did not compete in the second day after shooting an 83 on Monday.

Frank Williams & Lewis Rollins

34th Annual SCGA Senior Better Ball

Frank Williams and Lewis Rollins shot a second round of 67 and a two day total of 132 for a two shot victory in the 2007 SCGA Senior Better Ball Championship. Finishing in second place were Defending Champions Randy Johnson and Joe Padgett at 134.

Williams and Rollins, both from Greenwood, were steady throughout the round taking advantage of key shots and minimizing mistakes. The tandem combined for a total of 6 birdies on the day and only one bogey, which came on the difficult par four 6th hole. Two close approach shots from Williams on both 7 and 8 for birdie negated that error and the team went on cruise control through the rest of the round to clinch their first Senior Better Ball Championship.

In the first flight JD Siconolfi and Danny Woodward from Walhalla won with a score of 138. Columbia natives, Bucky Grice and Lee Jordan, shot a two day total of 142 to capture the Second Flight.

The 2007 SCGA Senior Better Ball Championship was played on the par 72 – 6,413 yard, Santee Cooper Country Club in Santee, S.C. The field consisted of 64 two-man teams playing Best Ball format conducted over thirty six holes. The Senior Better Ball Championship is one of 18 Major Championships conducted annually by the South Carolina Golf Association.

Men's Golf Alum Johnson Helps U.S. Retain Walker Cup

NEWCASTLE, COUNTY DOWN, N. IRELAND — Coastal Carolina men's golf alum Dustin Johnson, along with teammate Colt Knost, scored a 1-up victory in their foursomes match in the morning as part of a U.S. sweep that fueled the Americans' victory of 12 1/2-11 1/2 at the 2007 Walker Cup Matches at Royal County Down Golf Club, Sept. 8-9. This was the first time the U.S. team had won the Walker Cup on foreign soil in 12 years, as Johnson was 1-1-1 in his three matches over the weekend.

Three-time All-American Dustin Johnson teamed for the second straight day with Colt Knost of SMU, the reigning U.S. Amateur and U.S. Amateur Public Links champion, as the pair held on to the final hole for a 1-up win against to defeat Rhys Davies & Nigel Edwards of the Great Britain & Ireland team. The match was tight as neither team led by more than one hole throughout. The U.S. pair was down one after 12 holes, but won the 13th and 14th holes and then halved the remainder for the 1-up win.

On the first day, Johnson teamed with reigning U.S. Amateur and U.S. Amateur Public Links champion Colt Knost in the second match of the morning, taking on Rory McIlroy, winner of the Silver Medal in this year's British Open Championship as top amateur, and Jonathan Caldwell. After leading a majority of the match, Knost and Johnson could not hold the lead over the closing holes and ended up halving their match. Johnson then played Rhys Davies, who played against Johnson numerous times while a collegian at East Tennessee State, in the afternoon singles. Davies jumped on top early, winning four of the first seven holes, and never looked back en route to a 5&4 victory.

Luke Hopkins

Hopkins Wins Amateur

With a final round of one under par 71 and tournament total of 276, Luke Hopkins is the 2007 SCGA Amateur Champion.

Starting the day with a six shot lead, Hopkins stayed steady making pars on the first five holes. His first birdie of the day came on the 588 yard par five 6th hole. Two more pars and another birdie on the 9th hole had the 20 year old Clemson sophomore at two under for the day and nursing an eight shot lead. The Greer native added another birdie on the par four 10th hole and continued on his par run until hole 15. The Champion's one hiccup of the day came on the 452 yard par four 15th hole where he made a double bogey. Three pars coming in, including a four on the tough 18th hole, insured Hopkins of the victory.

The victory by Luke Hopkins now means a Clemson University golfer has held the Amateur Championship title 7 out of the last 11 years.

The top twenty from this year's Championship will be exempt from qualifying in 2008 when the event will be conducted at Musgrove Mill. Twenty one players finished at 293 or better which tied for the elusive 20th spot. The 2007 SCGA Amateur Championship was played on the par 72 – 7,085 yard Country Club of South Carolina layout in Florence, SC. The event began with a field of 137 players and was cut to the low 70 and ties after the first two days of play. 71 players made the cut at 153. The Amateur Championship is one of 18 Major Championships run by the South Carolina Golf Association and is in its 76th year of existence

Women's Golf's Felgueroso Named Big South Female Athlete of the Year

CHARLOTTE, N.C. – Coastal Carolina freshman women's golfer Aruka Felgueroso (Madrid, Spain) has been voted the Big South Conference Female Student-Athlete of the Year for 2006-07 by the League's Athletics Directors, Senior Woman Administrators and Sports Information Directors, it was announced today by the Conference office.

Felgueroso becomes the first Big South golfer – male or female – to win the Big South's annual Student-Athlete of the Year award. In a very close vote, she received 44 points and four first-place votes, edging out Liberty softball player Jessica Moore, who finished with 43 points and two first-place votes.

Haas to be Inducted into S.C. Golf Hall of Fame

Columbia, S.C. –The South Carolina Golf Hall of Fame will be adding a new member to its family this winter. On Saturday, December 8, 2007 during the South Carolina Golf Association's Golf Day, Jay Haas will be inducted to join other greats from South Carolina's golf history books.

Haas' success on and off the golf course are no secret. Born in St. Louis, Haas was introduced to the game by his uncle, 1968 Masters Champion Bob Goalby, at a very early age and took to the game almost immediately. Haas won his first trophy at the National Pee Wee Championship in Orlando when he was only seven years old. Haas proceeded to win several Junior District Titles and three St. Louis District Amateur Championships. That was only the beginning.

Haas earned a position with the Wake Forest University Golf Team in 1973 where he became an ACC Individual Champion his freshman year. Haas also led his squad to four straight ACC Titles, and two straight NCAA Titles in 1974 and 1975, the latter of the two being Haas' NCAA Individual Championship. Playing with the likes of Curtis Strange, Lanny Wadkins and Scott Hoch, Haas was a four-time letterman and All-American at Wake Forest, and earned All ACC stripes in 1975 and 1976 (the first two years the ACC recognized all-conference athletes in golf). Haas was also selected for the 1975 Walker Cup Team and was inducted into the WFU Hall of Fame in 1987.

Upon graduating from Wake Forest, Haas joined the professional ranks in 1976. He won four titles before joining the PGA Tour in 1980. Once on the Tour, he won nine different times over the course of the 1980's and 1990's, and earned a spot on three different Ryder Cup Teams ('83, '95, '04) and two President's Cup Teams ('94, '03). In 2005, Haas became eligible for the PGA's Champions Tour and has been outstanding since participating. He has 10 victories including the 2006 Senior PGA Championship. He was Rookie of the Year in 2005 and Player of the Year in 2006 collecting the Jack Nicklaus Trophy, Arnold Palmer Award and Charles Schwab Cup.

Haas has also earned many other awards. In 1975, he was presented the Haskins Award for the Nation's Top Collegiate Player after winning his NCAA Individual Championship. In 2004, Haas earned the Payne Stewart Award given to the player best representing professionalism, presentation, character, community work & charity. The year 2005 greeted Haas with the Murray Award for cooperation with media and was presented to him by the media. Finally, in 2006 the USGA rewarded Haas with the Bob Jones Award for Distinguished Sportsmanship.

Many of Haas' awards are for his charitable contributions to his surrounding communities. Haas is a contributor to the American Cancer Society. He has also served Greenville Area Charities through the Thornblade Classic, SC Junior Golf by contributing to Junior Golf Lands & First Tee Facilities and he also sponsors the Jay Haas Award for Outstanding Male Junior Golfer in SC. Haas is supported by his wife Janice, two sons, Jay, Jr. and Bill and daughters Haley, Fran and Georgia.

2nd CAROLINAS MIXED TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST END, NC - A field of 59 teams, including defending champions Anthony and Debbie Adams of Asheville, NC, entered the second Carolinas Mixed Team Championship, which will be played September 1-2 at Ocean Ridge Plantation's Lion's Paw course near Ocean Isle Beach, NC. The Carolinas Golf Association event for teams consisting of a male and female golfer is a 36-hole four-ball stroke

Anthony & Debbie Adams 2006 play competition, with the field divided into flights by gross score after the first round. The teams will compete on the par-72, Willard Byrd-designed Lion's Paw Course, which opened in 1990. The men will play from tees measuring 6,450 yards, while the ladies' course will cover 5,578 yards. This is the second straight year that Ocean Ridge Plantation has hosted the event. Last year, when it was played on the development's Panther's Run course, the husband-wife Adamses shot 67-67—134 to win by one stroke over Kevin Atamian and Katie Brenny of Raleigh. Although this is only the second Carolinas Mixed Team Championship, a similar competition had been conducted by the CGA in past years under the group's One-Day Tournament program. For more information about the Mixed Team Championship and many other CGA events, visit the Championship Home Page online at www.carolinasgolf.org.

National Final Brings Record Field to Hilton Head

HILTON HEAD, S.C. - The island of Hilton Head will host its largest golf tournament ever when the Amateur Golf Tour conducts its 2007 National Championship in late October.

A field of approximately 600 golfers from across the country will converge on the island Oct. 27-28 for the tour's national finals. The championship will be contested on a half dozen courses, including three at Palmetto Dunes Resort and two at Port Royal Plantation. The sixth course is Oyster Reef Golf Club.

This marks the second straight year the AGT has hosted its national championship on Hilton Head Island. Last year's event drew just under 500 golfers and encompassed five courses. The overall champion was Joe Jaspers of Charlotte, N.C., who fired a course-record 67 on the Robert Trent Jones course at Palmetto Dunes in the final round.

We expect another competitive tournament throughout all five flights. Guys are grinding these last weeks of the season to earn enough points to qualify for the National Championship," said tour president Dennis McCormac. The players who came last year really enjoyed Hilton Head Island. In addition to world-class golf, it offers great beaches, restaurants and activities.

The record number of participants will be gunning for a total purse of at least $15,000 in gift certificates in the 36-hole stroke play championship. In addition to the Saturday and Sunday rounds, golfers have the opportunity to arrive early for practice rounds from Oct. 22-26.

South Carolina Juniors lose Karen Ferree Trophy to Georgia

The second Georgia-South Carolina Girls' Junior Challenge Match took place August 4-5 at Berkeley Hall in Bluffton, SC. Sponsored by the WSCGA Vicki Hillen Junior Golf

Foundation and the Georgia State Golf Association; the matches bring together the top junior girl golfers in the two neighboring states. Teams are composed of the top four finishers from each state's 2007 Girls' Championship. The two-day event consists of four singles matches per day. The tournament's format changed to awarding three points for each match: one for the front nine, one for the back nine and one for overall. Both teams are awarded a half point for matches that are all square. Matches were worth only one point last year when South Carolina won 5-3.

After nabbing a comeback victory last year, South Carolina struggled early and trailed 8 1/2 -3 1/2 after Saturday's round. Cayci Ruppe kept the South Carolina team alive through nine holes on Sunday, but Georgia's young girls prevailed in the end as the Peach State mimicked its first-round performance and won the second Georgia-South Carolina Girls' Junior Challenge Match.

Playing for the honor of holding The Karen Ferree Trophy for the year, the South Carolina team was represented by 2007 Junior Girls' Champion Meredith Few from Aiken, Alex Rankin of Anderson, Taylor Weaver from Spartanburg, and Cayci Ruppe from Gaffney. Representing the winning Georgia team were Mariah Stackhouse from Riverdale, Kathryn Fowler of Americus, Yugene Lee from Athens, and Lindsay Adams from Lawrenceville

The Women's South Carolina Golf Association is a non-profit organization founded in 1949. The WSCGA membership is made up of local Women's Golf Associations throughout the state. Membership has grown from the original 10 clubs to over 150 member associations with more than 14,000 women golfers receiving WSCGA handicaps.

Recognized throughout the United States as one of the premiere Women's Golf Associations in the country, WSCGA acts as an arm of the USGA in upholding traditions, policies, and high values in regard to the great game of golf.

Amateur women golfers are the core of the Women's South Carolina Golf Association. The WSCGA Board of Governors is comprised of women who are recommended by local associations and voted on by the membership.

Each member association appoints a WSCGA representative and handicap chairperson. The WSCGA Board of Governors meets annually with the representatives and is always open to their suggestions in determining WSCGA policies and scheduling activities.

In addition, a WSCGA directory is published annually and distributed to all member clubs. A quarterly news letter is mailed to each club's representative.

The WSCGA also employs an Executive Director to provide assistance and service to all members.

Georgia takes International Junior Four Ball

Virginia was well poised to take their third International Junior Four Ball title as they finished regulation play at 12 under par for the two day tournament. Michael Moyers and Evan Beck combined to birdie the tough eighteenth to shoot 132. James White and Sam Braver, representing the Georgia State Golf Association, fired a second round 65 to tie the Virginia contingent after 36 holes of play. Sudden death play was to settle the tie and after four holes, the Georgia natives earned their first Junior Four Ball Championship. James White converted the ten foot birdie putt to end the domination of the Virginia State Golf Association. Juniors were selected based on their past year performances and are representing their respective Golf Associations. The International Junior Four Ball Invitational is presented by the Savannah Harbor Foundation and conducted by the South Carolina Junior Golf Association.
