Vol 7 issue 9

We did it!! The very first SCAGM golf get together. On September 20th, 2007 at Santee Cooper Resort CC, we played held our first tournament, and even though it was a dreary day the rain held up enough for all of the players to finish and enjoy their Steak dinner and the drawing for the door prizes along with the awards for each flight. We look forward to next year and we want to thank all of the sponsors that helped us make this a fun event and the many gifts that they provided for us to give to our golfer's. The following need your support: Pro Golf of Charleston, Edwin Watts, Golf Holes, Crowfield Plantation, Berkeley CC, Legend Oaks, Pineforest CC, Miler CC, Santee National CC, Lake Marion CC, Shannon Greens CC, Santee Cooper Resort, Wyboo Players CC, Wyboo Golf Club, and Golf Santee. They provided the gifts and made our tournament fun and rewarding for all who played. We thank all of our players who believed me when they called and asked about the weather for the day.

Thank You, Thank You.

Seahawks had finished first in each of the teams' four head-to-head meetings previously this season.

Bluffton High School vs's Hilton Head Island

If Jim Corbin's sister would've been there, he probably would've kissed her.

Corbin's Bluffton High School golf team pulled even with archrival Hilton Head Island High School on Tuesday, as the Bobcats and Seahawks carded matching 173s on the front nine at Pinecrest Golf Club.

Kaitlin O'Sullivan

For the Bobcats, though, this tie was a whole lot more rewarding than locking lips with a sibling — the “It’s good to see a couple of our girls play to their potential,” said Corbin, who got a career-best 41 from senior Jenna Bruno and a 42 from eighth-grader Sammie Buchanan. It might have been enough for a victory if not for Seahawks senior Kaitlin O’Sullivan, who grabbed medalist honors for the second consecutive meet. For most of her round, O’Sullivan was more concerned with frizzies than birdies on a wet and windy day — “I didn’t really play that great, and the rain was not helping my hair,” she said — but she knocked an 80-yard pitching wedge to 20 feet on the par-4 ninth and rolled in the ensuing birdie putt to finish at 1-over-par 37 and unknowingly save the Seahawks from defeat. “I wasn’t really thinking about it being a game-winning stroke,” O’Sullivan said. “But I guess I should’ve been.” The Seahawks needed a good round from O’Sullivan more than ever, because No. 1 player Rachel Uremovich had her worst day as a Seahawk. Uremovich, who was the medalist in all three meets she had played before Tuesday, fought a balky putter en route to a 43.

Meanwhile, the Bobcats were getting a career day from Bruno, who almost skipped the golf season this year to focus on lacrosse. Bluffton would have been lost without her Tuesday, as she turned less-than-favorable conditions into an advantage. “I’m kind of the opposite of everybody else — I like it cool,” Bruno said. “It was kind of everything today. I just played pretty well.” She wasn’t alone. Beaufort High School carded its best team score of the season, finishing at 221. Kylie Gratton led the Eagles with a 48, matching the career-best she set last week at Dataw Island Golf Club.

“We’re seeing progress, but it’s kind of frustrating because it’s the end of the season and I know most of these girls won’t pick up a club again until August,” Eagles coach Liza Bethel said. Bethel has watched her players lower their scores one by one, and Tuesday was Lindsey Ware’s turn. Ware shot a career-best 56. “Lindsey made a big improvement today,” Bethel said. “She has been improving her game every week.” Corbin and Seahawks coach Steve Henry are trying to arrange an 18-hole match between the Bobcats and Seahawks on Tuesday, and the same three teams will get together to play the back nine at Pinecrest on Oct. 11.

CofC Opens Links at Stono Ferry Golf Learning Center

Charleston, S.C. – College of Charleston women’s golf coach Jamie Futrell, men’s golf coach Mark McEntire and Greg Wood, general manager for The Links at Stono Ferry held a grand opening press conference on Wednesday to introduce the Cougars’ new golf practice facility, the Stono Ferry Golf Learning Center.

The facilities main building is 2,358 square feet and consists of a lounge, eating area with a kitchen, men’s and women’s locker rooms, a conference room and men’s and women’s coach’s offices.

The two indoor hitting bays are 1,877 square feet and have a club repair area and an 860 square foot efficiency apartment upstairs. The hitting bays are equipped with the K-Vest product suite, the V-1 Pro video system and the Vector Pro.

The K-Vest is a portable golf instructional system that uses wireless sensors to capture motion faster than a standard video system. It helps coaches capture and analyze a player’s swing motion in real-time 3-D.

The V-1 Pro video system gives coaches the ability to capture a gold swing and provide analysis through interactive playback of the recorded motion.

The Vector Pro delivers launch monitor data with video swing analysis for both fittings and lessons.

The Links at Stono Ferry Golf Learning Center is located at 4812 Stono Links Drive in Hollywood, S.C. (843-763-1817).

Quotes

“With the support that Stono Ferry and it’s members showed our program when we hosted the 2006 Southern Conference Championship, it is only fitting that we will be able to call Stono Ferry home. This practice facility is the best in South Carolina and will allow us to attract recruits from all over the country. In addition, it is equipped with state of the art video equipment and provides excellent practice opportunities.”

Mark McEntire, Head Men’s Golf, Coach College of Charleston

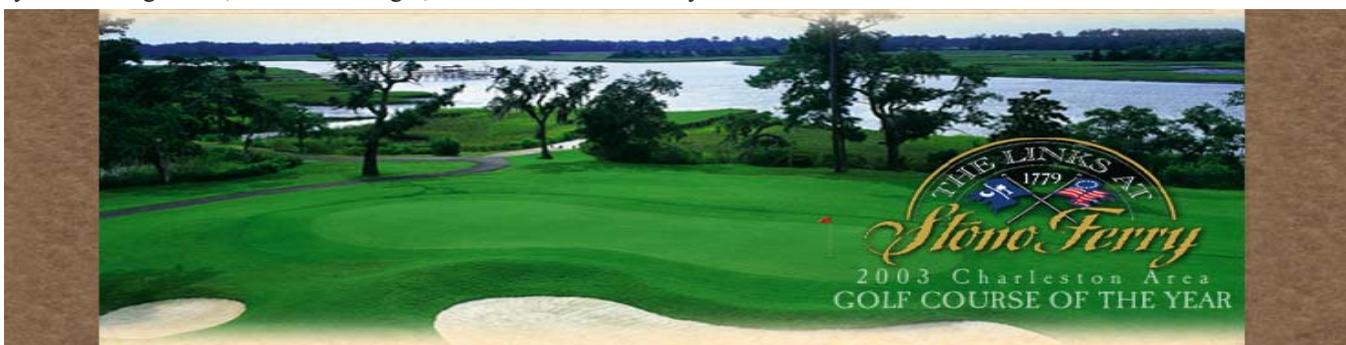

“The practice facility has far exceeded our expectations. The attention to detail that has been put into all aspects of the facility will make this one of the top practice facilities in the country.”

Jamie Futrell, Head Women’s Golf Coach, College of Charleston

“We as Stono Ferry are extremely proud to partner with The College of Charleston and its golf teams to build a facility that will help them become one of the elite collegiate programs in the country. The Learning Center and its cutting-edge technology will give the players one of the premier environments in which to perfect their skills. We look forward to this exciting relationship and to seeing The College of Charleston at the top of the collegiate golf polls for many years to come.”

J. Patrick Barber, Managing Partner, The Links at Stono Ferry

“We (Stono Ferry) now have a double-ended driving range and a 15,000-square foot putting green that allows us to work on putting, bunker play and short game. The two hitting bays are equipped with the V-1 Pro camera system and the K-vest system.” Greg Wood, General Manager, The Links at Stono Ferry

Senior Azalea golf tournament at the Country Club of Charleston

Charleston SC - Walt Martin's round of 67 Friday matched his age and earned the retired U.S. Navy captain from Oakton, Va., a two-shot victory over Larry Boswell in the nationally recognized tournament for amateurs 55 and older. Martin, who was stationed in Charleston in the mid- to late-90s with his wife, who was the commanding officer of the Navy Hospital, posted three birdies, an eagle and just one bogey to finish the tournament at 2-under-par 211. Boswell had a final-round 70 for a 213 total. Bill Smunk of Kingstree was another golfer to post a round in the 60s, a final-round 69, and finished in a tie for third at 215. Bob Hullender of San Antonio, led start to finish and won the Super Seniors division for players 65 and older, shooting a final round 70 for a 210 total. Brodie Baker of Bermuda Run, N.C., was second at 72—216. Although he was eligible to compete in the Super Senior division, Martin elected to play in the regular division this week. Last week, he finished first in the Super Seniors division in a Society of Seniors tournament in Columbia. Martin said he made three "horse gagers" but missed several shorter putts during the final round. He birdied the par-4 seventh hole, then reached the par-5 ninth in two shots and drained a 45-foot putt for eagle.

46th Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship

Mount Pleasant, SC - Paul Simson of Raleigh, NC captured his 16th CCA title by claiming the Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship at Dunes West Golf Club. The 56 year-old Simson edged defending champion Joe Vignati of Bluffton, SC, by four strokes. Vignati made a last-round charge with a tournament-low 67. "This is a great feeling," said Simson, an insurance executive. "It's nice to add my name to a CGA event that I have not yet won." Simson, the 2006 British Senior Amateur champion, carded six birdies in his final round which included all of the par 3 holes. He bogied holes 11 and 16. The Carolinas Senior Amateur Championship is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association.

Men's Golf Begins Season with 11th-place Finish

FLORENCE, S.C. – Improving on his second round total by 12 strokes, Justin Martinson fired a one-under 71 in the final round of the Raines Development Group/Days Inn Invitational.

The freshman helped guide the CSU men's golf squad to a tie for 11th place with the lowest individual total among Buccaneers in the third round.

Furman won the team title, using a 285 in the final round to score the victory after finishing the first day in fifth place. Michael McGrady took the individual crown, finishing at four-under, three strokes better than his nearest competition.

Martinson finished the tournament in a tie for 55th with a score of 234 (80-83-71).

Herve Gevers was the top overall finisher for the Buccaneers, finishing with 11 birdies in the three rounds, ranking him a tie for fourth among the 80 participants. He shot a 76 (+4) in the final round to give him a three-round total of 221 (70-75-76), placing him in a tie for 16th.

Just one stroke behind his teammate in the final standings, Carl Petersson matched Gevers 76 in the final round. He placed among the tournament leaders in both par-three and par-five scoring average. Over the two day event, he played the four par-three holes even and averaged 4.58 strokes, shooting five under overall, on par-five holes. His 36 pars also placed him among the tournament leaders.

Ben Rowe shot an 81 in the third round, finishing with a score of 242 (85-76-81) to place 74th overall and Jim Hough finished 80th after recording an 85 in the final round to give him a total of 262 (93-84-85).

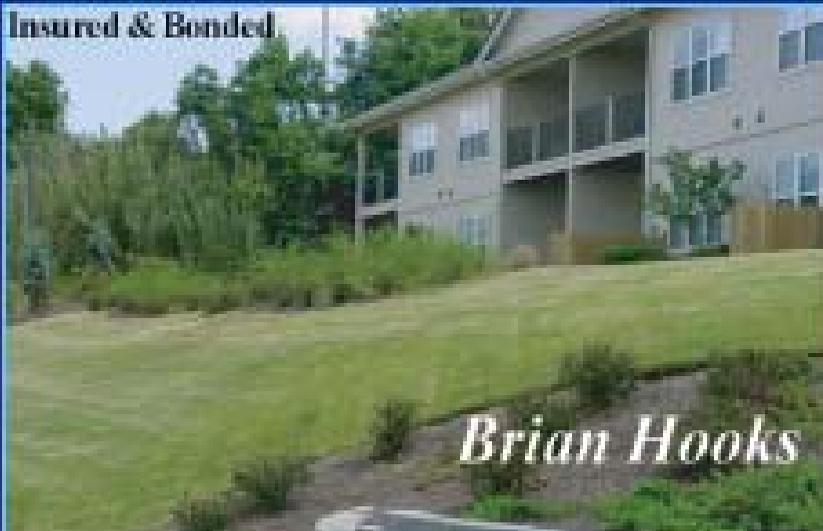

Jordan-Higgins Named Co-Golfer of the Week

CHARLOTTE, N.C. – With a tied for 15th-place finish at the Great Smokies Women's Collegiate, sophomore Olivia Jordan-Higgins earned Big South Conference Choice Hotels co-Women's Golfer of the Week honors, the league announced today.

Jordan-Higgins shares the honor with Jutta Degerman of Winthrop, one of the golfers to finish in a tie with Jordan-Higgins at the Great Smokies Women's Collegiate.

The Lady Buccaneer sophomore finished a total score of 149, carding rounds of 72 and 77 in the two-day event. For the third straight tournament, Jordan-Higgins earned at least a share of the lowest score among CSU golfers, tying with teammate Katrin Rumpf this weekend for the best score on the team. She posted seven birdies in the two rounds, and tied for second in the tournament with a 4.00 stroke average on par four holes.

Patriots finish ninth at URI's Adams Cup of Newport Tournament

NEWPORT, RI – Despite a final-round one-under-par 71 by sophomore Christopher Couch, Francis Marion University fell back two positions to finish ninth in the final team standings at the Adams Cup of Newport Tournament, hosted by the University of Rhode Island. FMU junior Andrew Pitcher, who held a two-shot lead in the individual standings after 36 holes, shot a final-round 77 to finish tied for fifth at five-over-par 221. He had fired rounds of 70 and 74 on Tuesday. Couch finished tied for 30th position (78-81-71=230), while FMU junior Peter McGibney tied for 36th (70-85-77=232). He shared the first-round lead with Pitcher after the opening 18 holes.

Other Francis Marion Golfers: Junior Keith Crowley (81-76-83=240) who finished 59th, and Sophomore Jonathan Lavin (93-79-78=250), who tied for 75th spot.

Wichita State University (890) led from start to finish and finished 11 shots ahead of the University of Southern Mississippi (901). The host school and the University of Maryland tied for third at 902, followed by the University of Texas-San Antonio (905), USC Aiken (906), the University of the Pacific (909), Furman University (911), FMU (912), and Long Beach State University and Georgetown University (920). The field consisted of 15 teams.

USGA Policy on Gambling

The Definition of an amateur golfer provides that an amateur golfer is one who plays the game as a non-remunerative and non-profit-making sport. When gambling motives are introduced, problems can arise which threaten the integrity of the game.

The distinction between playing for prize money, which violates the Rules of Amateur Status, and gambling, which does not, is essential to the Rules of Amateur Status. The USGA urges amateur golfers to seek USGA guidance whenever it is unclear whether the prize format constitutes playing for prize money or gambling and, in the absence of such guidance, not to play for cash prizes. Such a course of action would ensure that no one jeopardizes his amateur status.

The USGA does not object to informal wagering among individual golfers or teams of golfers when the players in general know each other, participation in the wagering is optional and is limited to the players, the sole source of all money won by the players is advanced by the players on themselves or their own teams and the amount of money involved is such that the primary purpose is the playing of the game for enjoyment.

On the other hand, organized events open to the general public or designed and promoted to create cash prizes are not approved by the USGA. Golfers participating in such events without first irrevocably waiving their right to cash prizes are deemed by the USGA to be playing for prize money.

The USGA is opposed to and urges its Member Clubs, all golf associations and all other sponsors of golf competitions to prohibit types of gambling such as: (1) Calcuttas, (2) other auction pools, (3) pari-mutuels and (4) any other forms of gambling organized for general participation or permitting participants to bet on someone other than themselves or their teams. The USGA may deny amateur status, entry in USGA Championships and membership on USGA teams for international competitions to players whose activities in connection with golf gambling, whether organized or individual, are considered by the USGA to be contrary to the best interests of golf.

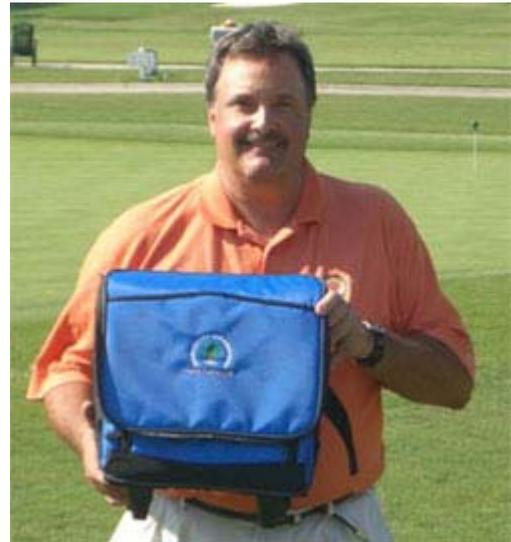

Galbavy wins chip-off to claim 40 Plus title

North Augusta SC - Ed Galbavy of Mt. Pleasant defeated Steve Scott of Mauldin in a chip-off to claim low gross at the 40 Plus event held at Mount Vintage Plantation Golf Club. Both Galbavy and Scott shot an even par round of 72 on the beautiful Tom Jackson layout. Rick Schroder, Jeff Pope, and Bill Hathaway all finished at one over par 73 to finish tied for third.

In the net division, Mark Creel carded a five under par 67 to claim top honors.

The 40 Plus is a series of events conducted for the “baby boomer” golfers across South Carolina, over the age of 40. The field consisted of 120 players, playing on the 6603 yard Mount Vintage Plantation Golf Club in North Augusta, SC. This event was the fourth of seven 40 Plus events the SCGA will conduct in 2007.

Lori Hatcher Named Head Coach for Women’s Golf

Charleston SC - Citadel appoints Lori Hatcher as the head coach for women’s golf.

A 2004 graduate of Youngstown State, Hatcher earned her degree in marketing and was a four-year letter winner for the women’s golf team. In 2003, Hatcher led the Penguins in becoming the first YSU women’s program to earn a Horizon League Conference Championship winning the inaugural league women’s golf title by 10 strokes over Loyola. Along with the team championship, Hatcher won the individual championship and earned All-Conference and All- Tournament honors. Following her championship junior season, Hatcher repeated her honors on the All-Conference and All-Tournament team.

Prior to her collegiate debut, Hatcher played in the highly esteemed United States Girls Amateur tournament as well as in various tournaments with the American Junior Golf Association. In 2000, she won the P.J. Boatwright Challenge Cup Junior State Championship in Pennsylvania. “Lori brings a wealth of knowledge about college golf from her playing experience at Youngstown State where she was a conference champion”, said Senior Women’s Administrator, Kelly Simpson. “She possesses an enthusiasm for the game that I feel will carry over to the team members and have an immediate impact on the women’s golf program.”

A native of Wheeling, W.Va. Hatcher taught golf for six years at The Oglebay Resort where she was an instructor in the junior golf department. Following graduation from Youngstown State, she worked for Goodwill as a director of vocational services. After moving to Charleston in 2006, Hatcher served as an assistant at a local doctor’s office.

Newberry men claim Mid-Carolina Invitational title

PROSPERITY, S.C. - The Newberry College men's golf team kicked their fall season into high gear Saturday by winning the Mid-Carolina Invitational at Mid-Carolina Country Club. The win is the second in a row for the Indians at Mid-Carolina, where they are the host school. Newberry shot an even par 288 in the morning round, and finished with a 2-over 290 in the afternoon. Catawba College's Eric Schmehl claimed top medalist honors. Schmehl, the only player to shoot under par in both rounds, fired a 2-under 68 in the morning and a tournament-best 4-under 68 in the afternoon. Schmehl's overall 138 was the only under par score in the tournament. The Indians were paced by freshman Ben Lown (North Augusta, S.C.). In just his second tournament as a collegian, Lown finished second individually with an even par 144 after shooting 74 in the morning and 70 in the afternoon. Teammate and fellow freshman Daniel Stanley (Inman, S.C.) finished third individually, shooting 72 in the morning and 73 in the afternoon to combine for a 1-over par 145. Another Newberry rookie, John Allen Meetze (Chapin, S.C.), finished in a five-way tie for fourth place individually at 2-over 146 after shooting 72 in the morning and 74 in the morning. Newberry junior Billy Burrows (Bluffton, S.C.) finished the morning round tied for the individual lead with Schmehl after firing a 2-under par 70, but he faded in the afternoon, shooting a 5-over 77. Still, Burrows' 3-over total of 147 was good for solo ninth place.

Dogfight at The Neuse

CLAYTON, N.C. - The Newberry College men's golf team finished third out of 14 teams competing at the Dogfight at The Neuse that concluded this past Tuesday. Held at The Neuse golf course in Clayton, N.C., the Indians completed play seven strokes behind Pfeiffer University and four strokes behind Cape Fear Community College (N.C.).

Newberry shot 304 on Monday and 301 on Tuesday for a combined total of 605.

Individually, Newberry's Ben Lown (North Augusta, S.C.) tied for third place after shooting 145 over two days.

Lown's two-over par showing was not the only top 10 finish for the Indians. Fellow freshman Daniel Stanley (Inman, S.C.) completed rounds of 76 and 74 en route to a final standing tied for 10th place.

Sophomore Brandon Burnside (North Augusta, S.C.) and freshman John Allen Meetze (Chapin, S.C.) finished with two-day scores of 154 and 157 respectively.

Lady Indian golf ranked 24th in national poll

NEW YORK, N.Y. - In the second Golf World/NGCA Division II coaches poll, the Newberry women's golf team is ranked 24th in the nation. The Lady Indians dropped five spots from the first poll that was released back in August. Newberry has only competed in one tournament in the fall portion of the 2007 schedule. The Lady Indians finished in third place in the Lady Falcon Invitational with sophomore Franziska Blum (Schweinfurt, Germany) winning the individual title. Senior Ashley Ratcliff (Myrtle Beach, S.C.) finished in the top 10 as well, with a 19-over par performance and in an eighth place tie.

Morrow and Sweatt win shootout at Players

Columbia SC - Chris Morrow and Greg Sweatt captured the 23rd Annual Players Four Ball Championship with a two day total of 16 under par 128. The first round leaders carried a three shot lead into the final round, but needed a birdie by Greg Sweatt on the final hole to secure the victory. Playing six groups ahead, Brent Roof and Paul Tucker fired a final round 10 under par 62 to finish in second at 15 under par 129. The team of Eddie Hargett and Sammy Truett matched their first round 65 to finish alone at third with a two day total of 14 under par 130.

The 23rd Annual SCGA Players Four Ball Championship was played on the par 72, Columbia Country Club in Blythewood, S.C. The field consisted of 64 two-man teams playing Best Ball format conducted over thirty six holes. The Players Four Ball Championship is one of 18 Major Championships conducted annually by the South Carolina Golf Association.

Men's Golf Among Nation's Elite

COLUMBIA - South Carolina men's golf team ranks second in the nation this week in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index. Sophomore George Bryan IV is ranked second in the individual standings as well. A mathematical formula that links teams and players based on common opponents based on strength of schedule and won-lost-tied record, the Performance Index gives the most objective view of the teams and individuals playing well over a set period of time.

In their season-opening tournament, the Gamecocks tied Alabama for first, yielding the team title in a playoff. With 18 teams in the field, the Gamecocks' record stands at 16-0-1. South Carolina benefited greatly from the strength of the field it dominated as 11 other teams at the Carpet Capital Collegiate were ranked in the top 25. The Gamecocks are behind only Charlotte in this week's ratings.

Carl Bradford and Mike Ziefert (of Santee Cooper CC) at the Apple Tree Classic member-guest at The Saint Andrew's Golf Club, Hastings-on-Hudson, New York.

Mike and Carl (as guest) traveled to New York to participate at The Saint Andrew's Golf Club in Hastings-on-Hudson. Saint Andrew's is recognized by the USGA as the oldest (1888) organized golf club in America. The Club was also one of the 5 founding members of the USGA. A lot of history and the memorabilia throughout the club is lesson in golf history.

The golfing duo were runner-up in their flight, losing on the last holes of the 5th match of the weekend. A great time and a wonderful weekend.

Bénédicte Toumpsin

Toumpsin Makes Top 25 at Vanderbilt

FRANKLIN, Tenn. - In a 17-team field that featured 13 squads ranked in the top 25, including nine of the nation's top 10, South Carolina women's golf tied with fellow Southeastern Conference member Kentucky for 14th in the Mason Rudolph Women's Championship at the Vanderbilt Legends Club. Sophomore Bénédicte Toumpsin led the Gamecocks with a three-round total of 220 (+4) to hold a share of 22nd place.

Toumpsin closed the tournament with a 70 (-2) on Sunday after posting 74 and 76 on Friday and Saturday, respectively. While the sophomore opened each half of her round with a bogey, she added four birdies to claim a spot among the top 25 golfers in the field.

Erika Holmen took 48th place with a three-round 225 (+9) after opening the tournament with a season-best round of 70, posting four birdies. The freshman carded 79 on Saturday and wrapped up the event with a 76 Sunday. Senior Blythe Worley's 230 (+14) was good for 66th place, shooting 75-76-79. Seniors Camila Mori and Whitney Simons rounded out the Gamecock team. Mori finished 74th in her first event of the season with rounds of 75, 80 and 77. Simons sandwiched an 82 between opening and closing rounds of 77 to claim 82nd place.

Paradise Awaits...2008 CGA Island Four-Ball Championship

West End, NC - The Casa de Campo resort in the Dominican Republic has been selected once again to host the 12th annual CGA Island Four-Ball championship on February 20-22, 2008.

The Island Four-Ball is a three-day four-ball (better-ball) partners event. Teams are pre-flighted according to handicap with higher-handicap participants playing shorter tees.

The 4-night package rate is designed for arrival on Tuesday, February 19 and departure on Saturday, February 23, with golf February 20-22. There is also a 7-night package rate that is available for February 16-23.

Casa de Campo is home to three Pete Dye designed golf courses. Dye, considered by many to be the world's most renowned golf course architect, has designed three of the most internationally renowned courses at Casa de Campo. The breathtakingly beautiful Teeth of the Dog, Dye Fore and Links courses offer distinct challenges and distinguished charm and beauty. Each course will host one round of the championship.

Tournament package includes deluxe hotel accommodations with one transportation cart per room, tournament entry fee, three meals a day, unlimited drinks at all hotel restaurants and bars, three tournament rounds, one round on Teeth of the Dog for four-night package or two rounds for seven night package, unlimited green fees, carts and range balls on Links and Dye Fore, club storage, transfers to and from La Romana Airport, golf staff gratuities, all taxes and service charges. Caddies are available for $15-25 per day plus gratuities. Caddie use on Teeth of the Dog is required.

For more information and tournament application, visit www.carolinagolf.org, call the CGA office at 910-673-1000 or e-mail Andy Priest at apriest@carolinagolf.org. Registration deadline is January 9, 2008.

Tiger Golf Team Ranked 10th in Latest Poll

CLEMSON, SC - The Clemson men's golf team is ranked 10th in the latest Golf World/Nike Golf Coaches' Poll, remaining in the top 10 after a previous ranking of ninth. Clemson is one of five ACC schools in the poll, and is joined in the top 10 by Florida State at eighth. Georgia Tech and Duke are 12th and 13th, respectively, and Wake Forest is ranked 20th. The top two spots did not change, with Stanford and Alabama ranked first and second, respectively.

Clemson last played in the Carpet Capital Classic at The Farm in Dalton, GA, where the team finished 13th out of 18 teams. Red-shirt sophomore Ben Martin leads the team so far in scoring average with a 73.67 mark and one top-10 finish.

2nd Carolinas Mixed Team Championship

Anthony & Debbie Adams

Ocean Isle Beach, NC — Final round results of the 2nd Carolinas Mixed Team Championship hosted by Ocean Ridge Plantation, Lion's Paw Course, in Ocean Isle Beach, NC on Sunday, September 2, 2007. Par 36-36—72 6400 yards men; 5500 yards women. Defending champions, Anthony and Debbie Adams of Asheville, NC maintains their title of the Carolinas Mixed-Team champions for a second straight year. The Adams duo carded five birdies on the windy final day shooting a 7-under par 65. "We still left some birdies out there," said Debbie. "We just played so well together. We also both made two bogeys on a hole at the same time too." Kevin Atamian and Katie Brenny of Raleigh, NC again finished in second place seven shots back of the leaders. The championship faces a man and a woman on a team in a four-ball competition. Players were placed into flights after the first round. This championship is conducted by the Carolinas Golf Association.

Heritage Golf a beauty and a beast

Scenic Heritage Club offers challenges at every corner

Perhaps more than any other course on the south end of the Grand Strand, Heritage Golf Club in Pawleys Island reflects the area's plantation history.

Mid Amateur Championship Bound for DeBordieu

Georgetown, S.C. — This year, DeBordieu Club will be 5th host site for the 26th Annual South Carolina Golf Association's Mid Amateur Championship. The dates for the event are October 5-7 and will be played over the par 72 course that will measure 6,937 yards.

There are many contenders in the field for the 2007 Championship. A couple of key pairings to keep an eye on through the first two days is that of 2006 Mid Amateur Champion, Irmo's Steve Liebler, previous Champion Terry Ezell of York and local Sammy Truett of Surfside Beach. The other group to keep watch of is Charleston's Bert Atkinson, Walter Todd of Laurens — both previous champions — and Rick Cloninger of Fort Mill who has been playing some excellent golf this summer.

Other past champions of the SCGA Mid Amateur who are competing this weekend include Robert Dargan of Blythewood, 2002 Champion, Kevin Driggers of Mt. Pleasant, Bill Smunk of Kingstree and Bluffton's Joe Vignati.

The Mid Amateur Championship is one of 18 SCGA statewide championships, 74 one-day contests, nine USGA qualifiers, seven 40-plus tournaments and five special events conducted by the SCGA. Results, schedules and applications may be accessed via the Internet at www.scgolf.org.

13th Annual Bobby Chapman Junior Invitational

Spartanburg, SC - After a stellar opening 64, Sean Dale captured the 13th Annual Bobby Chapman Junior Invitational by two shots over Jacob Burger and Sam Braver. The Jacksonville, FL native fired a second round 72, one over par, to win the championship. The strong field came from all areas of the country in an effort to earn national acclaim in this highly ranked event. Five AJGA victories are represented along with 15 state championships, 22 USGA Junior Championship contestants, and 23 other major titles as well. The field boasts an average handicap of below scratch and 11 players are ranked in the top 100 of Golfweek's junior rankings.

Dale said of the round, "I hit the ball just as solid as I did yesterday, I just could not get the putts to fall. I had to take an unplayable on the fifth hole, but did not let it get to me and finished off the tournament with a great par on 18. The board, staff, and members do a fantastic job and I am glad to join the list of champions of this tournament.

Great shots did abound over the weekend. James Ellis had a hole in one on hole number 14, while Sam Braver holed out his second shot on the par five 17th for a double eagle. Stephen Behr had two of the field's 19 eagles, no small feat as they were both on par four holes during his final round.

The tournament is held in honor of the late Robert H. Chapman, Jr. Chapman, a long time member of the Country Club of Spartanburg, was the only man to serve as president of both the South Carolina Golf Association & Carolinas Golf Association. He was an accomplished player and served the USGA in several capacities. In his business life, Chapman was a local and national leader in the textile industry. The tournament also benefits the Spartanburg Foundation and the South Carolina Junior Golf Foundation. To date, over $100,000 has gone to scholarship recipients through both organizations thanks to the many kind supporters of the Bobby Chapman.

For more information, contact Chris Miller with the SCJGA at (803) 732-9311.

The Bobby Chapman is one of 13 major events conducted by the SCJGA. Results, schedules and applications may be accessed via the Internet at www.scjga.org.

Pro Golfs best at Berkeley Seniors, Eddie Gillette

9th Annual Berkeley Senior Championship

Moncks Corner SC - This years winner for the second year in a row was Nick Avery who was challenged this year by many of the area's local elite, Warren Pepper of Charleston, Bob Burns also of Charleston, welcome back Bubba Hightower who has been under the weather of late. Nick who was playing his home course played for two days under par to win again. We thank Bob Merryman(Pro), his staff and Frank Orouk (Supt) for the great tournament and an excellent golf course to play on.

This was my second year in a row to enjoy this tournament which had just short of 100 players. If you are a senior or will be a senior next year this should be on your list of golf tournament to play.
