Hilton Head Island

HILTON HEAD/ SAVANNAH AMATEUR GOLF TOUR

The Hilton Head/Savannah division of THE AMATEUR GOLF TOUR opened their 2007 season on Saturday, January 6th at the Oyster Reef Golf Club. Located on Hilton Head Island and a member of the Heritage Group, a leading owner and operator of golf facilities nation wide, Oyster Reef was named the 2006 Low Country Golf Course of the Year by the Low Country Golf Course Owners Association. Golf Digest named Oyster Reef Resort in the top 75 U.S. Golf Resorts in 2006. The Rees Jones designed course was in excellent condition, with fast greens and soft fairways.

The top three finishers in each flight were competitive in score with the exception of B flight. B flight was won by five strokes, looks like we have our first flight movement of 2007. Everyone had a great time and the course staff were fantastic hosts for the season opener. Gerry Pascale won Championship Flight in a playoff with Kevin Arnold. Both Hilton Head residents opened the season with 74. A Flight winner, Mike Peters of Richmond Hills, GA. beat out Ernie Lewis of Hilton Head by one stroke with Bob Potter of Charleston right behind. Bryant Turner of Bluffton finished fourth. Roger Mitterling of Spartanburg, S.C. won B Flight by five strokes over Marvin Guia of Jessup, GA. and Tony Taylor of Greenville, S.C. who both scored 87. Mark Morris of Bluffton won C Flight with an 88 over Alex Canfield of Savannah and John Kolcun of Hilton Head. William Tad Smith of Bluffton took honors in D Flight over Vince Butler of Savannah and Rod Slifer of Hilton Head. Pete Snow won The Senior Championship Flight by one stroke over David Politi, both Hilton Head residents, and Mike Peters of Richmond Hills G.A., who both scored 82. Senior A flight winner Bob Potter of Charleston, took the play off over Ernie Lewis of Hilton Head, both players started the season with 83s. Jack Willis won Senior B Flight by one stroke, over Jim Manning, of Hilton Head. Grant Genner won C Flight by one stroke over Rick Powtak of Bluffton, and Craig Smith of Hardeeville. Gary Shillinger of Bluffton, easily won Senior D Flight with and 86 over James Weatherill of Hilton Head and Gladys Butler of Savannah, GA.

The next tour stop in the Low Country is at Rivertowne Country Club in Mt Pleasant, S.C. on Saturday, January 13. The next Hilton Head event will be January 20th at Palmetto Hall's Robert Culp course. We would like to encourage everyone to come out, join the tour, and enjoy playing competitive tournament golf. City of Charleston Parent-Child Championship

Charleston SC - Kyle and John Peters shot 68 to capture the 13-15 division of the City of Charleston Parent-Child Championship. Played over the Charleston City Golf Course, The Peters shot 32 on the back nine, including a string of 3 straight birdies on 15, 16, and 17, to card the low round of the Championship. The Sons 20-29 flight saw outstanding play, with 3 teams shooting under par. Kevin and Stan Smuniewski's 69 bested the 71's shot by the Peper's (Mark and Warren) and the Thompson's (Charles and Charles III)

Tye Beasenburg and Ty Cline continue their masterful team play with a 71. They moved up an age bracket from 2005, however, the results did not change. Facing stiffer competition in the form of Justin and Cantey Hare, Beasenburg and Cline's 34 on the back nine won the playoff.

The format for the competition was Chapman Scotch. (The partners both drive from each tee, and then each plays a second shot with the other's ball. After the second shots, a choice is made regarding the ball with which the hole will be completed, alternate shots being continued until the ball is holed.) A record 48 teams of Parent – Child or Grandparent-Grandchild competed in the 2006 Championship. The teams were broken into 17 flights based on the age and gender.

Please see www.charlestoncity.inof/golf for complete results. For those that are interested, the 2007 City of Charleston Golf Championship schedule has been posted on-line as well.

CHARLESTON AMATEUR GOLF TOUR

Charleston SC - The Charleston division of THE AMATEUR GOLF TOUR at the Wild Dunes Golf & Tennis Resort. Wild Dunes Resort was named the Best in State Resort by Golf Digest in 1997. The Harbor Course, which winds along the Inter-coastal Waterway proved to be both challenging and treacherous. The Tom Fazio design has lots of water and some very long par 4s. Nearly 1/3 of the tournament players triple bogeyed the first hole. The course staff was an excellent host for this event and is looking forward to our return to their Links Course on February 17th. The weather was cool with temperatures in the low 60's with moderate winds. The tournament played in just over 4 ¾ hours and the pace of play was excellent. One cart problem caused a short delay in play, but was resolved quickly.

David Ferris of Summerville, SC won the Championship Flight with a score of 74. Matt Metz scored a 78 for second, with Michael Assey right behind for third. Jace Gause of Goose Creek, SC shot an 83 to take "A" Flight honors over Walt Wysk of Myrtle Beach. Tom Cloud of Hilton Head scored an 86 for third place. Scott Wolfe took "B" Flight in a play-off over Andy Allen, both players from Charleston scored 80. Jerry Mast of Summerville, SC beat out Jim Manning from Hilton Head, SC in a play-off for third place. David Shuart from Summerville, SC captured the "C" Flight with an 84 over Mark Morris of Bluffton, SC who shot 88. Kyle Ergle, a junior player from Mt. Pleasant, SC finished third after missing a short putt on the 18th hole that would have tied him for second place. Cowboy scored a 92 for his first "D" Flight win over Bruce Ackerman of Charleston, SC. Cowboy hails from Moncks Corner, SC. Jason Brisini of Hanahan, SC took third place. Bruce captured the play-off on the second handicap hole.

This month we'll talk about some very basic information, ball flight laws, I'll explain this from a right handers perspective. A ball can fly in one of nine different ways (for purposes of this tip we'll not add in the consideration of trajectories). Balls can fly in three directions; straight, left, and right. It can also curve either left or right going in any of the three directions, thus the total of nine.

The direction in which a ball flies is controlled by the path of the club through space and of course that is created by the direction of arm swing. As for the curve, well that is solely determined by the angle at which the club face is pointing at the moment of impact and how it relates to the club's path. I.E., an out to in path with a club face open to that path leads to the dreaded start left curving right shot, THE SLICE!

Swinging square and straight will produce straight non curving shots, swinging in to out or out to in with the club face square to that path will produce straight right or left shots. How one holds the club in their hands is directly correlated to how the club head will react that is why strong or motorcycled lead hand grips lead to left curving shots as the club head is turning toe toward the golfer after impact, weak lead hands lead to the opposite.

So much attention is given in lessons to creating proper swinging motion, but all that REALLY matters is the direction in which one's arms move and the relationship of the face to that direction, the ball doesn't know if you're swinging in a phone booth or if your lead knee leads you into proper impact positioning. The next time you practice go out there with the information above and see how easy it is to begin to change directions and create or limit curves in shots. There is no one mechanical motion which is the silver bullet, we're all different and therefore how could we all swing the way "x" golfer does, all we have to do is pay attention to the ball's flight and make changes given the knowledge of ball flight laws to get the desired golf shot direction and shape. Heck! the ball is yelling back to us what the direction of arm swing was and what angle the face was at impact.

If you want to investigate for yourself how to strike better golf shots.

Charleston City 4-Ball 2007 Championship

Charleston SC - Tim Tang and Dustin Barr won the 2007 Charleston City 4-Ball with a birdie on the first hole of sudden death at The Municipal Golf Course. Tim Tang converted a 12 foot birdie putt on the first hole to edge Andrew Motroni and Chris Pond. The approach from 111 yards that set up the birdie was the key to the win. In trouble under trees to the left, Tang hooked a wedge under the trees from 111 yards.

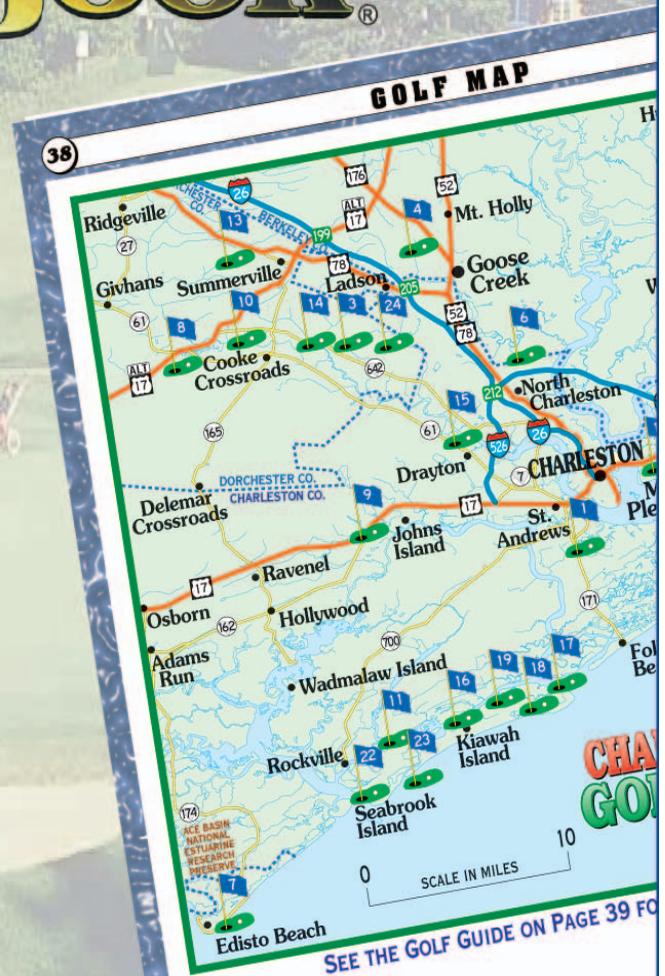

Tang and Barr posted 65 to force the playoff with Motroni and Pond, who carded a second day 66. Seven birdies without a bogie gave Tang and Barr their first City 4-Ball Championship.

Bobby Mitchell and Dr. John Swicord won the City Senior 4-Ball Championship. (Both players 50 and over playing from the Gold Tees) Their back nine 31 put a fantastic finish on an outstanding 2-day performance. A pair of 68s led the Senior Championship from start to finish, winning by 8 strokes over the nearest competitors.

Jerry Wise and Steve Meyer won the City Combination 4-Ball Championship. (One player playing from the White Tees and one player 50 and over playing from the Gold Tees)

Tournament Schedule

Carolinas Golf Association Announces 2007 Championship and Tournament Schedule

WEST END, N.C.—The Carolinas Golf Association has announced its 2007 schedule of championships and tournaments. The CGA is entering its 98th year of conducting state and regional championships for amateur golfers.

This year the CGA will conduct 161 tournaments including: 31 championships, 29 CGA championship qualifiers, 13 USGA national championship qualifiers, four team match events, 70 one-day tournaments and 14 Tarheel Youth Golf Association events.

The CGA's flagship event, the Carolinas Amateur Championship, will be contested July 11-15 at Long Cove Club in Hilton Head Island, SC. Long Cove Club is annually ranked in the top 100 golf courses in the country by Golfweek and hosted the 1991 U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship plus the 2003 U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur Championship. Designed by Pete Dye in 1981, Long Cove Club will be hosting their first Carolinas Golf Association championship. This year marks the 93rd playing of this event dating back to 1910.

The 27th Carolinas Mid-Amateur will be contested at Providence Country Club in Charlotte, NC on April 20-22. The Dan Maples design will be hosting its second CGA major (1995 North Carolina Amateur). The 14th North Carolina Mid-Amateur returns to eastern NC and will be played at the newly renovated Wilson Country Club in Wilson, NC. Wilson Country Club has previously played host to the 1983-84 NC Amateur, 1987 Carolinas Mid-Amateur, 1996-97 NC Senior and 1998 NC Four-Ball.

The 56th Carolinas Four-Ball Championship returns to Camden Country Club in Camden, SC, May 2-6. The event has been conducted at the Donald Ross design every year since 1950 except in 1953 (Country Club of Spartanburg), 1968 and 1985 (Red Fox Country Club), and 2000 (Florence Country Club).

Starmount Forest Country Club in Greensboro, NC will host the 47th North Carolina Amateur. A 72-hole stroke play championship, this event is set for June 14-17, the same week as the U.S. Open Championship. This is Starmount Forest's third CGA major (2001 NC Senior, 2004 NC Mid-Amateur).

The 46th Carolinas Senior heads to Dunes West Golf Club in Mt. Pleasant, SC, September 11-13. Joe Viganti of Bluffton, SC is the defending champion. This will be Dunes West's first CGA championship.

The 12th North Carolina Four-Ball returns to Foxfire Resort and Country Club in Foxfire Village, NC for the second consecutive year. The 36-hole facility will play host to the event on October 26-28.

The 2nd Carolinas Mixed Team Championship returns to the beach September 1-2 at Ocean Ridge Plantation's Lion's Paw course over Labor Day weekend. The event is open to male-female teams that are residents of one of the Carolinas.

The 13th Tar Heel Cup Matches and the 62nd Carolinas-Virginias Team Matches will feature some of the best male amateur golfers in the region. The Tar Heel Cup, scheduled for April 2 at Pine Needles Lodge and Golf Club in Southern Pines, pits eight North Carolina amateurs versus eight North Carolina PGA golf professionals. The Carolinas-Virginias Team Matches heads to Old Town Club in Winston-Salem, NC, October 19-20. Each amateur team is comprised of 16 male regular golfers and eight male seniors (over 55 years) from North and South Carolina and from Virginia and West Virginia. This will be Old Town Club's first time hosting a CGA event. Players for both of these team competitions are invited, based upon rankings and playing history.

The 41st Carolinas Father-Son Championship will be contested on Friday, July 27 at five Pinehurst, NC area courses. The host clubs are Mid Pines Inn and Golf Club (Southern Pines, NC), Foxfire Resort and Country Club (Foxfire Village, NC), Legacy Golf Links (Aberdeen, NC), Longleaf Golf Club (Southern Pines, NC) and Seven Lakes Country Club (Seven Lakes, NC). This event annually draws over 350 Father-Son teams from all over the Carolinas.

The CGA will play the 10th Carolinas Parent-Child Championship at Longleaf Golf Club in Southern Pines, NC on July 27. The Parent-Child is open to persons of all ages and teams are comprised of any family combination other than male-male. In women's golf, the 30th Carolinas Women's Four-Ball championship will be held August 7-8 at Mid Pines Inn and Golf Club in Southern Pines, NC. The 10th Carolinas Women's Match Play Championship will return to Cowans Ford Country Club in Stanley, NC for the second straight year.

The 9th Carolinas Women's Senior will be played April 17-18 at the Country Club of Spartanburg in Spartanburg, SC. This will be the 8th CGA major hosted by the Country Club of Spartanburg (1953 Carolinas Four-Ball, 1956 Carolinas Amateur, 1984 Carolinas Mid-Amateur, 1995, 1999 Carolinas Pro-Amateur, 2002 SC Amateur Match Play and 2005 Carolinas Senior Four-Ball).

Greensboro Country Club's Farm course in Greensboro, NC plays host to the 4th North Carolina Women's Senior Championship from September 25-26.

In junior golf, the CGA will now oversee two popular junior girls championships that had been previously conducted by the Women's Carolinas Golf Association. The 51st Carolinas Junior Girls' championship will be played June 26-28 at the Country Club of South Carolina in Florence, SC and the 41st Girls' Twin States championship is scheduled for July 31-August 1 at Old North State Club in New London, NC. The 2nd Vicki DiSantis Junior Girls Championship will be played at Emerald Lake Golf Club in Matthews, NC on May 5-6.

Tournament Schedule

The 40th North Carolina Junior will be contested at Cedarbrook Country Club in Elkin, NC. The event for boys and girls will be held June 19-22.

The 3rd Dogwood State Junior goes to High Point Country Club's Willow Creek course in High Point, NC on August 14-16.

The 58th Carolinas Junior Championship (boys) heads to Hope Valley Country Club in Durham, NC on July 31-August 2.

The 30th South Carolina Junior Match Play will be hosted by Furman University Golf Club in Greenville, SC from July 10-13.

New for 2007 is the North Carolina Boys 13 and Under championship. This event, which had been a part of the North Carolina Junior championship, will be played at the 9-hole Donald Ross designed Asheboro Golf Club in Asheboro, NC from July 16-17.

The CGA will host 13 One-Day Four-Ball Tournaments in 2007. The two-person better-ball events are open to both men and women of all abilities. Teams may be comprised of any gender combination. Gross and net prizes will be awarded. First event is set for February 12 at the Old North State Club in New London, NC. In addition, the CGA conducts 18 one-day tournaments for people of all skill level and ages. Gross and net prizes are awarded with players receiving 100% course handicap.

Also new for this year is a senior/super senior one-day tournament that will be played at Greensboro Country Club's Farm course in Greensboro, NC on August 1. This event is open male amateurs over the age of 55 with gross and net prizes awarded.

The Carolinas Senior Four-Ball One-Day Tournament Series will have 36 events on its 2007 schedule. The popular two-man, best-ball one-day tournaments open to male amateurs over the age of 55, historically have more entrants than spots available at most events. Teams are pre-flighted into three divisions based on total team handicap.

A complete list of CGA major championships, one-day tournaments, senior four-ball one-day tournaments, women's one-day events, Tarheel Youth Golf Association (TYGA) one-day events, USGA qualifying events in the Carolinas, CGA yearbook detailing tournament history, tournament entry forms and online championship entry registration is available on the CGA web site at www.carolinasmartswing.com or by calling the CGA at 910-673-1000.

SCAGM Changes

As in all things a CHANGE is going to come!!!

Beginning this month the SCAGM will be limited in the Publication of a Hard Copy. The reason for this is the adverse cost of delivery and printing of the Magazine.

In the true spirit of a Free Publication with all cost being absorbed by the Advertisers we will continue to make this publication available for everyone via the Internet.

All interested parties will be able to read and print the magazine from the internet on the many sites that it is available. We will also e-mail copies to anyone who sends us an e-mail asking that they be placed on the list of Subscribers for the magazine to be e-mailed as it becomes available. All you have to do is send us an e-mail to rbamateurgolf@yahoo.com and we will add you to the list of monthly subscribers to receive via e-mail a monthly download of the magazine for your pleasure.

All coupons and offerings in the Magazine will still apply and must be downloaded and cut out and taken to the particular advertiser for your redemption.

We hope that this will answer any questions on how to receive your free copy of the magazine in the future. This will only allow your current advertisers to make greater offers to you the general public in savings for items for sale or discounts on play.

SCAGM Changes

The Choice to go to an Internet Publication was thought about for some time and the following items will increase your enjoyment of this publication.

The Magazine will be downloaded and available the first of each month and ready for you to read.

The Color and Quality of the Magazine will be greatly improved and make for better enjoyment.

The Pictures and Stories will be available for you to download and save your own personal interesse such as you Hole-In-One

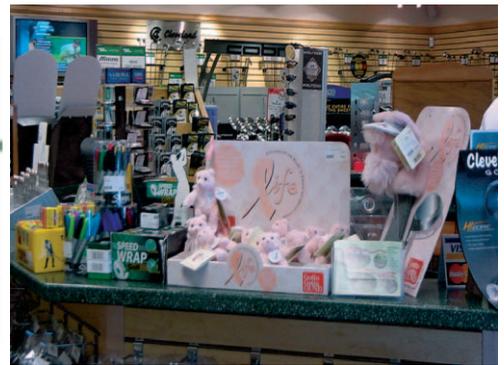

The Internet allows us to reach 100,000,000's of Readers who will enjoy and learn what we have to offer in SC.

The internet allows us to cover your Club Tournaments due to no lack of space available.

It allows our Advertisers to reach 100,000,000's of Readers

9th Annual Can-Am Junior Team Matches

Murrells Inlet SC - On the second day of the Can-Am Junior Team Matches, the American team earned 14 ½ points to defeat the Canadian squad 21-15. Sunday's format featured singles match play with the South Carolina junior golfers facing off against junior golfers from the Canadian Province of Ontario. Three points were available per match – one for the front nine, one for the back nine and one for the overall 18 holes. In the event of a tie, each team gets ½ of a point. The first match of the morning was closed out on hole 17 when Columbia's Brewer Bradshaw pared the daunting 200 yard par three to take all three points of the match over Michael Oudyk. Drew Ernst out of Seneca, halved his match against Britt Pronk after a thrilling match that went down to the wire earning both teams a point and a half each. Lake Wylie's Michael Muscatell got off to a good start but faltered and allowed Brett Cairns to take three total points after seven birdies propelled him to win the match in 14 holes. The string of birdies matches last year's efforts of Chapin's Wesley Bryan's when he birdied as many holes. Bryan also had a tight match and split points with Mackenzie Hughes. Lake City's Tripp McAllister held a lead all day long and earned all three available points from his match after defeating Graham Baillargeon, a member of last year's Canadian team. Easley's David Dannelly followed McAllister's effort and won all three points from his match against Jeff Clarridge putting the American team up for good. Jacob Burger, from Orangeburg, also played well and defeated Daniel Kim on the pristine 18th hole of Wachesaw Plantation to bring in two and a half points. The SCJGA Player of the Year from Cheraw, McCuen Elmore, played Matt Hill down to the wire but lost the both sides one down and handed over another three points. The South Carolina Juniors added the 14 ½ points to their first day total of 6 ½ to take the Matches by a six point margin. The efforts from the American Juniors, extended their winning streak and put the overall record of the Matches seven to two in favor of the South Carolina side. The matches were contested over the 6,853 yard par 72 Wachesaw Plantation Club in Murrells Inlet, SC. Wachesaw Plantation has hosted the matches since 2002 and has agreed to host the event through 2009. A special note that this event would not be possible without the continued support from Wachesaw Plantation and more specifically a group of its members who help fund this event, appropriately named the "Wachesaw Warriors." Day 1 Results USA – 6 ½ Canada – 5 ½ Bradshaw/Ernst – 1/2, Oudyk/Pronk – 2 ½ Muscatell/McAllister – 1, Cairns/Baillargeon – 2 Dannelly/Bryan – 3, Clarridge/Hughes – 0 Burger/Elmore – 2, Kim/Hill – 1 Day 2 Results USA – 14 ½ Canada – 9 ½ Bradshaw – 3, Oudyk – 0 Ernst – 1 1/2, Pronk – 1 ½ Muscatell – 0, Cairns – 3 McAllister – 3, Baillargeon – 0 Dannelly – 3, Clarridge – 0 Bryan – 1/1/2, Hughes – 1 ½ Burger – 2 ½, Kim – ½ Elmore – 0, Hill – 3 South Carolina Team McCuen Elmore – Cheraw, SC Jacob Burger – Orangeburg, SC Wesley Bryan – Chapin, SC David Dannelly – Easley, SC Tripp McAllister – Lake City, SC Michael Muscatell – Lake Wylie, SC Drew Ernst – Seneca, SC Brewer Bradshaw – Columbia, SC Coaches: Tim Kreger & Joe Quick Canadian Team Matt Hill Daniel Kim Mackenzie Hughes Jeff Clarridge Graham Baillargeon Brett Cairns Britt Pronk Michael Oudyk Coaches: Ralph Bauer & Dave Woods

14th Annual Senior Four Ball Championship

Bluffton SC - The local team of Gary Shimmin from Okatie and John Verity from Bluffton shot a second consecutive 65 for a two day total of 130 and four shot victory in the 2007 SCGA Senior Four Ball Championship.

Randy Johnson of Goose Creek and Joe Padgette from N. Charleston finished second at 134. Shimmin and Verity teamed to win, but it was more like a one man highlight show each day with Shimmin making six birdies the first day and Verity making seven birdies in the final round. The tandem combined for nines of 31 – 35 for their seven under par winning score of 65.

In the First Flight Hilton Head's Tommy Bell and Bluffton's Joe Vignati took the top place with a total score of 138. After a long first day, Defending Champions Vic Hannon from Camden and Bob Stringer from Blythewood came back to win the Second Flight with a total of 142.

The 2007 SCGA Senior Four Ball Championship was played on the par 72 – 6,662 yard Hampton Hall Club in Bluffton, S.C. The field consisted of 64 two-man teams playing Best Ball format conducted over thirty six holes.

2007 Shamrock Intercollegiate Title

Tega Cay, SC - Winthrop Captures 2007 Shamrock Intercollegiate Title Sunday, March 18, 2007 The fourth annual 2007 Shamrock Collegiate Invitational Tournament for collegiate women golfers was held March 16, 17, and 19 at Tega Cay Golf Club in Tega Cay, SC. Sixteen teams traveled here from as far as Texas and Minnesota. The Shamrock Invitational was hosted by Tega Cay Golf Club, SC, and Winthrop College in Rock Hill, SC. The first round was rained out on Friday, and there were strong cold winds on Saturday that sent scores soaring. Elon had won two of the last three Shamrock titles, and after the first day Elon led the pack with Winthrop behind Elon by seven strokes. However, led by Jutta Degerman's 73, Winthrop rallied on Sunday to beat Elon by 14 strokes, and second place East Tennessee State by two strokes for the team win. Winthrop's Jutta Degerman's final-round 73 combined with her first round 79 totaled 152 for first place medal honors. Katrina Rumpf of Charleston Southern and Lucy Gould of East Tennessee State were tied for second place with a score of 155. Winthrop won first place with (330, 312 □ 642). Runner-up was East Tennessee State with (326, 318 □ 644). Elon, who won twice before, was third at (323, 336 □ 659). The rest of the field included Charleston Southern (329-332-661), Gardner-Webb U. (339, 329 - 668), Bucknell University (333, 341 - 674), High Point University (354, 330 - 684), Western Carolina U. (344, 343 - 687), Minnesota State U. (347, 351 - 698), Texas-Pan American (358, 342 - 700), Jackson State U. (351, 354 - 705), Longwood U. (366, 343 - 709), St. Francis U - PA (369, 347 - 716) Belmont Abbey Coll. (368, 354 - 722), IUPUI (373, 359 □ 732), and The Citadel (429, 425 □ 854).

Carolinas Golf Association(CGA) Kicks Off 2007 Interclub Season

West End, NC - The Carolinas Golf Association (CGA) has announced the opening of the successful Carolinas Interclub program for 2007. The Carolinas Interclub has grown during the past 11 years to include 85 clubs throughout North and South Carolina. The event features match play team competition between neighboring clubs for scratch and net golfers in individual and four-ball net competition. CGA member clubs are eligible to enter. Four clubs are paired in a group to play home-and-home matches during the regular season. The regular season begins in April and concludes with the playoffs in October. The matches are normally scheduled on Saturdays and/or Sundays and do not interfere with regular club events. These weekend events provide clubs the opportunity to play in a Ryder Cup style team competition. Twelve players from each club compete in each match. Points are awarded to the winners of the two individual and the one four-ball match in each foursome and accumulated to determine the team winner of the home-and-home series. Teams with the most wins after completing their local matches advance, through the sectional and regional playoffs until a Carolinas Interclub Champion is determined. Last year Montgomery Country Club of Troy, NC won the title by edging River Hills Country Club of Lake Wylie, SC at Tanglewood Park's Championship course in Clemmons, NC. Clubs interested in participating can contact the CGA at 910.673.1000, www.carolinasgolf.org or interclub@carolinasgolf.org.
